HOSPICE PALLIATIVE CARE
WEEK PRESENTATION!

Towards a Palliative Psychiatry for Severe & Persistent Mental Illness

On May 5, staff from PHC and across the region will be gathering in person and online to celebrate Hospice Palliative Care Week and hear a talk from:

- Dr. Sarah Levitt, adult psychiatrist who works with the University Health Network Assertive Community Treatment Team and on a general adult inpatient unit. She completed an MSc at the University of Oxford in the History of Science, Medicine, and Technology and is now the Associate Director of the Azrieli Brain Medicine Fellowship Program
- Dr. Daniel Buchman, is a senior scientist at the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health (CAMH) in Toronto, where he directs the Everyday Ethics Lab. He also serves as an associate professor at the Dalla Lana School of Public Health and is a member of the Joint Centre for Bioethics at the University of Toronto. In addition, he is a member of the Canadian Institutes of Health Research (CIHR) advisory committee on ethics and the Bioethics Council for Canada

This talk, "Towards a Palliative Psychiatry for Severe and Persistent Mental Illness" introduces palliative psychiatry and traces its evolution over the past 15 years. It discusses ethical issues associated with palliative psychiatry and proposes some next directions in advancing this novel approach to mental healthcare.
